GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Williams Wins Meet Held Last Tuesday, with Technology Second.

The fourth annual tournament of the New England Intercollegiate Golf Association, comprising teams from Amherst, Brown, Williams, and Technology, was played Tuesday, on the Wollaston Golf Links. The forenoon play between Williams and Amherst resulted in favor of the former, with a total of 14 holes up; while the match between Technology and Brown came off with a victory of 15 to 1½ in favor of Technology.

The finish in the afternoon between Technology and Williams was a closer contest. Owing to a late start the final contest between Potter of Technology and Wilcox of Williams, lasted until after sunset, and proved to be the most interesting, Wilcox being followed closely by Potter until within a few holes of the home green. This, in addition to the other matches won by Williams, gave that team the final round over Technology, with a score of 10 to 4, and decided the tournament in favor of Williams.

Among the Technology players, T. M. Gilmer and W. J. E. Barcus showed up well, easily scoring over their opponents. Several other players made the rounds in the vicinity of 80, under the college system of scoring. H. Wilcox of Williams was the winner of the Metropolitan Championship of last year.

Potter's morning match with J. B. Mackensie of Brown was a game of high order, and resulted in the Brown man's defeat by a total of 9 up.

The tournament was a success in many ways, and was conducted under the most exceptional circumstances for this time of the season, the links being in fine condition.

Individual Championship Match.

Twenty-two players started in the qualifying round of the Individual Championship Club match of the Association Wednesday, and as a result of close playing only eight men were left for the second round, Thursday. Williams again showed up by the scores of her players. Potter of Technology again figured in an interesting contest, this time with R. H. Peck, of Dartmouth, who won out at the 21st hole.

W. G. Pheil of Technology made the lowest score of the day in his match with F. R. Upton of Bowdoin, his score reading 80.

The eight survivors, four from Williams, two from Brown, and one each from Technology and Dartmouth, played the second round yesterday morning. As the result of the second round, Williams had two men left, Tech and Brown one each, so that Williams will probably win the match, in spite of the fact that H. Wilcox, her best player, was defeated in the morning's play by Peck of Dartmouth.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM.

Result of Trial Race Run Wednesday Afternoon Over the Tech Course.

As a result of the preliminary trials for the cross country team run over the Tech course, Wednesday, the following men have been chosen to represent the Institute at the Intercollegiate Cross Country Championship races at New York, Nov. 25, and will start on the training table at the Hotel Oxford, at once:

H. R. Callaway, '08; P. J. Clapp, '06; A. H. Thompson, '08; E. Adams, '06; C. A. Howard, '06; G. H. Ruggles, '06; H. J. Ruggles, '08; G. H. Buckingham, '06; O. S. Bloede, '08; B. L. Gimson, '08; G. W. Beam, '07; C. S. Clapp, '08.

The team has the appearance of being quite fast, although the real time, 27 minutes and 10 seconds is not up to the standard set last year by Lorenz, who made the same distance in 24 minutes and 40 seconds.

The real worth of the team will be shown in the contest with Harvard on Field Day, November 11, and Coach Mahan feels that more support and interest will be forthcoming with the cold weather. As this is the first time that Technology has been represented in the Intercollegiate races, much support should be given the team.

The candidates will report at the Back Bay Station tomorrow at 2.40 p.m. to take an easy run over the course.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The matches in the Annual Fall Tennis Tournament are being played off at Jarvis Field, Cambridge as quickly as the contestants can arrange them. Already the preliminary round has been completed, most of the first round and a good many matches in the second and third rounds.

The results of the matches played during the last week are as follows:

SATURDAY'S ATHLETICS.

1908 Plays Wellesley High. — Hare and Hound Chase at Wellesley.

The Sophomore football team and the Hare and Hound Association will occupy two special cars on the train that leaves the Trinity Place Station for Wellesley tomorrow at 2.07 p.m. 1908 plays Wellesley High at 3 o'clock, and as Wellesley has a strong team this year a good game should result. Manager Tobin desires to take a large cheering section along, with the hope that good cheering will help the Sophomores to win. The team has not won a game yet, and will never win unless its playing is backed up with the encouragement of hearty classcheers.

The Hare and Hound Association will hold its weekly chase and then go to see the football game. This will undoubtedly be the best run of the season, and the manager hopes to see a large number of men come out. The round-trip fare to Wellesley is thirty cents.

FRESHMEN WIN FOOTBALL.

The Freshmen Football Team defeated the Ballou and Hobigand Team at the Field Wednesday afternoon by a score of 17 to 0. Eaton, '09, played a star game, and Wentworth, '09, did some great kicking. Just thirty seconds before the end of the second half Perkins of Ballou and Hobigand broke his shoulder blade.

The line-up was as follows:

TECH, '09.	B. AND H.
Whitney, l.e.	r.e. Moses

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The first meeting of the year of the M. I. T. A. A. was held Thursday at 1 p.m. in Huntington Hall. The election for officers of the association for the coming year resulted as follows: President, W. J. Knapp, '06; Vice President, J. H. Leavell, '07; Secretary-Treasurer, O. H. Starkweather, '07.

Only a week now remains before the Annual Fall Handicap Meet. This meet, which gives the only chance to size up the new material at Tech, is important in so far as it enables the coach to estimate the approximate strength of this year's team.

Little interest has been shown thus far, and the men do not come out regularly. The lack of "T" men is particularly noticeable. While these men have rendered real service to Tech in the past,—and have been rewarded,—it is still their duty to uphold a reputation once gained. With the prospect of two dual meets next spring, besides the annual New England Intercollegiate Meet, a large list of entries is necessary.

LOWELL INSTITUTE LECTURE.

An appreciative audience of five hundred people was present at the third lecture of the Lowell Institute series, given last evening in Huntington Hall. Geo. W. Knox, D.D., L.L.D., Professor of the History and the Philosophy of Religion at the Union Theological Seminary of New York City, was the lecturer of the evening. His subject deals with the far-eastern religions, Buddhism, Confucianism, and the primitive religions of Japan. This was the second of a series of six lectures on this subject. The next lecture will be given next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

SMALL FRESHMEN SQUADS.

The Freshmen squads in football, relay, and tug-of-war are too small. Only an average of twenty men report daily for the football team, there is more than the same number out for the relay, and in the tug-of-war, although fifty or so candidates are on the books, the usual crowd is thirty. The one encouragement to the managers is that their squads though small are composed now of those who are really out and intend to keep out.

YALE WINS GOLF.

The annual tournament of the Intercollegiate Golf Association held at Garden City, L. I., Wednesday, was won by Yale. The other entries were Princeton, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Columbia. The qualifying round of the individual championship was played yesterday.

NEW PRESIDENT AT ILLINOIS

The installation of President James of the University of Illinois will take place in about a month, the ceremony extending over three days. Besides having the usual characteristics of such functions, the ceremony will take the form of a civic demonstration, intending to emphasize the intimate organic connection of the University with the education and administration of the State and Nation. Other colleges and Universities will be invited to send delegates to these ceremonies.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Markham W. Stackpole, assistant minister at the Central Congregational Church, gave a very interesting talk before the Technology
Christian Association at their regular meeting, Thursday noon. He said in part, "The human body best represents the 'team work principle' which I wish to set forth. Among all its organs there is a common purpose, a subordination of its parts to a whole team consciousness. The sense of corporate responsibility is very accurate among its organs. Self individual assertion by one member, independent of the others, is entirely lacking. As a single example, the Japanese have this fundamental underlying principle of corporate responsibility and team consciousness thoroughly imbedded in their nation.
The result of the late war shows its workings."

He went on to show how, in our association work, in college, in state and national life, if the greatest good is to be accomplished, selfish individual assertion must subordinate itself to a common purpose which humanity is laboring to fulfil.
